Programs for International Exchange Students

We have 3 programs for students from our exchange partner universities that:

- Enhance Japanese language skills,
- Learn about and encounter Japan's traditional and transforming culture,
- Acquire knowledge about Japan and the world, and
- Interact with people living in Japan.

Each program has special features to meet the interests and needs of students from our partner institutions.

International Center

The International Center supports the university's international community—scholars, students, and visitors—at our Tokyo and Yokohama campuses. We welcome international students from many countries and regions for one- or two-semester programs. Through our three distinctive programs students acquire new ideas, insights, and skills, and enhance their additional language skills. All programs are also enriched with unique activities and options. Our internship course option lets students discover hidden talents and career possibilities. Our faculty-designed field studies alter the students' view of the world. Our buddy program connects students to the MGU community and creates enduring friendships.

掛け替えのない友情が生まれた
I got priceless friendships.

FEATURES

Off-campus Learning

Kamakura

Led by our faculty expert, this field trip takes students to the seat of Japan's first samurai government to gain knowledge beyond what tourists learn about the Kamakura era and its artifacts including temples and shrines.

Hiroshima

The atomic bombing of Japan is featured in school textbooks, television programs and movies, but this field trip lets students experience the continuing legacy of this critical event in human history.

Buddies

Studying abroad is both exciting and challenging for some students. Our buddy program matches visiting students with MGU students to enhance the study abroad experience in both the university setting and beyond. This program offers a special opportunity to get connected and to make enduring friendships.

Internships

This internship program assigns students to English classes as teaching assistants, or engages them in projects such as event planning, media and public relations, and market research. Students may also be assigned to work as interns in multinational companies.

SHIROKANE Campus

International Student Program (ISP Tokyo)

This ISP program is located in the heart of Tokyo. Close to museums, theaters, and cultural centers, students can access the arts and culture scene in metropolitan Tokyo while embarking on their Japan studies. The program is especially suited to students learning Japanese language and arts.

Students are asked to choose 1 or 2 courses from each of the following clusters:

Japanese Language Courses
Courses in Japanese Studies
Practical Courses in Japanese Culture
Elective Courses in English offered by Faculty of Letters, Economics, Sociology, Law, International Studies, or Psychology, and Center for Liberal Arts.
Elective Courses in Japanese (with permission of the instructor)
